Military Leica

Leica has a long history of providing reliable, high-quality cameras for military and law enforcement use. The Leica M series is the most popular choice for these applications, and the Leica M10 is the latest addition to the series. The M10 is a compact, lightweight camera that is easy to use and provides excellent image quality. It is also available in a ruggedized version, the Leica M10-R, which is designed for use in harsh environments.
